Documents relating to or memorializing the cultivation and distribution of marijuana, including U.S Currency, buyer lists, seller lists, pay-owe sheets, records of sales, log books, drug ledgers, ~~computers and computer equipment, computer software~~, personal telephone/address books, including electronic organizers, rolodexes, telephone answering pads, bank and financial records, and storage records, such as storage locker receipts and safety deposit box rental records.

2. Articles of personal property relating to the existence of a scheme to cultivate and distribute marijuana, including personal telephone/address books, including electronic organizers, telephone bills, photographs, and papers and documents containing lists of names and/or numbers of individuals involved in the possession and sale of marijuana.

3. Documents and articles of property relating to the identity of persons occupying, possessing, residing in, owning, frequenting or controlling the premises to be searched or property therein, including keys, door locks, rental agreements and records, property acquisition records, utility and telephone beepers or paging devices, rolodexes, telephone answering pads, storage records, vehicle and/or vessel records, canceled mail envelopes, correspondence, financial documents such as tax returns, bank records, safety deposit records, canceled checks, and other records of income and expenditure, credit card and bank records, travel documents, personal identification documents, and documents relating to obtaining false identification, including birth certificates, drivers license, immigration cards and other forms of identification in which the same person would use other names and identities other than his or her own.

4. Equipment used to cultivate marijuana, marijuana plants, processed marijuana, as well as paraphernalia for packaging, weighing, cutting, testing, distributing and identifying controlled substances.

5. Weapons and/or firearms.

6. Documents and records including income tax returns (including Forms 1120, 1120S, 1065, 1040, 940, 941, DE-3); income tax information documents (including Forms 1099, W-2, W-4, K-1), supporting work papers, summary sheets and analyses; documents relating to any corporate audits; corporate journals (including general journals, cash receipts journals, cash disbursement journals, sales journals, purchase journals and payroll journals); general and subsidiary ledgers (including payroll, accounts receivable, accounts payable, purchases); chart of accounts, adjusting and closing entries, year end trial balances, corporate minutes, bylaws and Articles of Incorporation; employee lists and employee contracts; documents showing the receipt or disbursements of cash (including records of royalties, credit card statements and receipts, invoices, records of commercial storage, cash reconciliation's, and records regarding any purchase or sale of assets); loan documents to or from shareholders and related entities with payment history; other loan documents; inventory records; financial statements; contracts (including contract bids and proposals); mortgage records or other documentation supporting conveyances and/or ownership of property; documents and records relating to other corporations, limited liability companies, partnerships and other entities which have related ownership.

Records related to their banking activity (including bank statements, check registers, passbooks, deposit and withdrawal slips, cancelled checks, certificates of deposit, notes, account applications, negotiable instruments, safety deposit box records and keys, money drafts, letters of credit, money orders, cashiers' checks and receipts for same, bank checks, wire transfers and bank reconciliations).

8. Records include various Accounting Journals (e.g., Sales, Purchase, Sales Returns and Allowance, Adjusting Journals) and Business Ledgers (e.g., General, Accounts Payable, Accounts Receivable, Payroll and Subsidiary Ledgers). In addition, I know that businesses also frequently maintain a variety of records to manage their payroll, inventory and tax situation. Similarly, they must also maintain various financial records such as contracts, bank statements, cancelled checks, invoices and sales receipts in order to conduct their normal business activities.

9. Records also include audio recordings, video recordings, telephone answering machine recording, memoranda, correspondence, diaries, notes, address books, day planners, calendars, appointment books, newspaper clippings, articles, books, financial institution records, checks, cashiers' checks, money orders, wire transfer records, deposit slips, ATM receipts, certificates of deposit, safety deposit slips, withdrawal slips, monthly and quarterly statements, stock certificates, bonds, bearer instruments, notes, money market account statements, negotiable orders of withdrawal, account documents, letters of credit, passbooks, drafts, title documents, mortgage and loan documents, property records, storage agreements and bills, storage locker keys, vehicle registration and ownership documents, asset ownership records, journals, ledgers, code sheets, financials, budgets, proposals, plans, contracts, agreements, bills of sale, delivery records, invoices, receipts, documentation of conveyances, deeds, and credit card bills and other papers. These records may be in many forms such as paper, electronic, or in code. I know from my experience that businesses use such software as Quickbooks and Microsoft Money to manage their finances and track their investments.
